Dibao Output Transformer intended to be used in high-fidelity vacuum-tube audio amplifier. It has a low primary impedance and a high primary current capability, making it suitable for use with low-impedance triodes or pentodes. Its relatively high power and current capability is complemented by outstanding frequency response characteristics.

We have many excellent staff and have advanced produce facilities, and manage on the basis of the request of ISO9002 strictly from design, manufacture to QC.
